Richard Maltby's Band To Play At U-A Prom

Annual Dance Climaxes Spring Weekend Events

The B-G News

Vol. 41

Bowling Green State University, Tuesday, May 14, 1957

No. 49

Richard Maltby and his Orchestra has been selected as the band for the annual University-Anniversary Prom to be held May 25 in the men's gym, according to Tom Nowack, president of the junior class.

Presently established as one of the country's leading bands, Maltby records on RCA "VIK" records and Sesac Radio Transcriptions; besides playing for many major college dances on the "one-nighter" circuit. Miss Franky Crockett is the featured vocalist with the Maltby group.

Having attended Northwestern University for one year, he left to work with local dance bands while he continued his study of advanced harmony and orchestration under Leo Sowerby. On completion of his courses, he toured with several dance bands, arranging as well as playing trumpet. In 1940 he decided to give up the trumpet and devote his time entirely to arranging, composing and conducting. Soon he joined WBBM in Chicago as a staff arranger.

Besides his work at WBBM, Maltby still found time to continue arranging in the dance band medium for bands in the Chicago area. One of his compositions "Six Flats Unfurnished" was recorded by Benny Goodman and proved to be one of Benny's biggest selling records.

When RCA Victor formed its new subsidiary, Label "X" (now VIK), he was approached to bring his talents to the company as a recording artist. What followed made musical history as the release of one of his first recordings, "St. Louis Blues Mambo," established him commercially as an artist of great stature. He turned his emphasis again to the dance band field sensing a revived interest in dancing on the part of young people. As a result, in June of 1955, Maltby organized his traveling band.

To date he has played many of the major colleges, and had a successful six weeks stay at the Cafe Rouge of the Statler Hotel in New York City.

Maltby wrote the music for and conducted the Vaughn Monroe Color TV Show on NBC the summer of 1955 and also appeared with his band on the Jackie Gleason-Paul Whiteman's Greatest Bands Show on TV. He has been guest conductor on the National Radio Fan Club on NBC several times and was guest "Star of the Day" on both Monitor and Week-day shows.

The UA Prom will climax the annual Spring Week-end which will be held the weekend of May 24-26. The Prom is sponsored by the junior class under the direction of its officers: Tom Nowack, president; Dale Christenson, vice-president; Chris Skodlar, secretary; and Doug Cotner, treasurer. Committee heads for the dance are Ed Ward and Leon Deibth, band; Mary Ellen Finkenbinder and Gene Lamb, tickets; Jane Bryan and Georgia Schuldt, publicity; Tom Stokes, Jim Derr and Liz Stevens, decorations; Bill Muir, guests and chaperones; Gail Granfield, program; Miss Skodlar and Cotner, intermission.

MALTBY

Tickets are now on sale for $3 a couple, and will go on sale in the Well, May 30. Women attending the dance will receive automatic two o'clocks.

Hasselschwert, Sousz Cop Art Show Awards

Student art show awards were announced recently for the 1957 Student Art Exhibit in the Fine Arts Bldg. The exhibit which opened Sunday, May 12, will be up until Thursday, June 9, according to Willard F. Wankelman, chairman of the department of art.

Harold Hasselschwert and Merlin Sousz received the faculty award for the two outstanding art students in the show.

Polly Hodgkinson cash awards were received by Edward Cebula for his sculpture, "Penguin;" Merlin Sousz for his oil, "Assemblage of A Galaxy;" and Richard Foley for his print, "Edification."

Marianne Illenberger's "Jamaica" won first place in designs. Second place went to Charles Hodges for "Collage" and Lowell Miller won third place with his design "Bowl."

The designs "Goodman Record Cover" by Jane Duchac, "Drill" by Franklin Zamacheck, "Design #2" by Ruth Williams, and "Raccoon" by Carola Knox received honorable mention.

4 Senior Students Will Conduct Band During Last Show

Four senior music majors will be the featured conductors of the Symphonic Band in the final Open Air Concert of the year Wednesday, May 15.

First conductor will be Charles Lutz, who will lead the band in "El Matador," a Spanish march. He will be followed by Verne Collins, who will conduct two selections from "Hootenany," a collection of old American folk songs.

June Roche will conduct the band in "March of the Free People," a concert march based on the theme of Allied victory on D-Day in World War II. The final student conductor will be Keith Biler, who will lead the band through "I've Been Working on the Railroad." Biler has served as president of the Symphonic Band this year.

Climaxing the program will be Rossini's famous "William Tell Overture." Roy J. Weger, director of bands said. Mr. Weger will conduct the band in its other numbers.

Featured student soloist will be John Gregory, who will play a cornet solo in "Panis Angelicus." The Symphonic Band will also present several selections from "Guys and Dolls," the Broadway musical of several years ago which was recently made into a movie.

Alumni Group's Constitution Passes; Nominations For Board Received

Features, Advertising Compactness Included In '57 KEY Edition

An extensive features section, an eye-catching advertising layout, and a more compact arrangement of academic sections are a few of the features of the 1957 KEY which was presented to Pres. Ralph W. McDonald by editor Ann Blackmar in an assembly Friday.

This year's maroon and white yearbook utilizes the typewriter key motif throughout. The cover design and the art work on the first few pages was done by Merlin Sousz, art editor.

With the exception of the cover, no color was used. All interior art work was done in black and white.

The book opens with an extensive campus life section. Feature stories about married students, people behind the scenes, and Albert de la Cruz and Francisco Santacana, the University's two Spanish exchange students, are included in this section.

A rather thorough coverage was made of the various royalty functions throughout the year. Included are features on the Homecoming Queen, Miss B-G, Military Ball Queens, and the KEY King and Queen.

In addition, the yearbook's theme of "Progress" was emphasized in a 6-page spread which treated both the physical construction at the University and also the non-physical aspect such as the formation of a new alumni committee.

Academic sections are divided into the three colleges and then into the departments composing them. This does away with the former policy of dividing each academic section alphabetically.

Joe Montesano, ad layout man, used a mixture of poetry, art, free verse, and unusual camera angle shots to good advantage in developing an attractive advertising section.

Marvin Megison was business manager of this year's KEY. He was assisted by co-ad managers Lynda Ruddick and Helene Hollstein. Nancy Greene acted as circulation manager.

Included on the editorial staff were managing editor, Gail Granfield; copy editor, Herb Moskowitz; photo editors, Donald Hannah and Kenneth Wulff; and duplicating editor, Phyllis Brobst.

Students are reminded that they are not guaranteed a book after 7 p.m., Friday, May 17. No books will go on sale after that date.

Candidates Begin Campaigns Wed.

Campaigning for class officers will get underway tomorrow at noon. All students who submitted petitions will have been notified by tonight whether or not they are eligible for a candidacy, stated Sandra Clark, chairman of the Elections Committee.

Pictures of candidates for the May Court are to be in to Miss Clark by 5 p.m. Sunday, May 19. Campaigning for these candidates will begin at noon on the same day.

Elections of the officers of the four classes and the May Court, including May Queen of Bowling Green State University, and senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman attendants, will be held Wednesday, May 22.

Anyone desiring further information may contact Miss Clark, Gamma Phi Beta house, extension 393.

Staff Applications

Applications for all staff positions on the 1957-58 B-G News are now available in the journalism office, 315 Administration Bldg.

Applications must be returned to the journalism department by Monday, May 20 at 5 p.m.

Design Exhibit Shown At Libe

The speech department is presently sponsoring the "Donald Oenslager: Stage Designer and Teacher" exhibit in the first floor study room of the Library.

The exhibit will be shown until May 22. Monday, Wednesdays, and Fridays, the display is available for viewing from 3:30-5 p.m. and on Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1-3 p.m.

The purpose of the exhibit is to celebrate Mr. Oenslager's completion of 30 years of Teaching at Yale University. The material includes about 70 designs for his productions dating from 1924 to the present, 10 models, a number of costumes, designs by 35 outstanding scenographers who have studied with Mr. Oenslager. The exhibit runs a total of 120 feet.

Since January of this year, the show has been on tour of the nation to museums and galleries under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts. It will remain on tour for one year.

Zimmerman Top Scorer Of Team

A sophomore, Lee Zimmerman, was the high scorer for the Army ROTC Rifle Team for the entire 1956-57 season with 1,698 points out of a possible 1,800.

The season ended with the firing of the National Intercollegiate Match in which the team had its highest total of the season. They scored 7,231 out of a possible 8,000 points.

During the year they also fired the Hearst Trophy Match, Second Army Intercollegiate Match and dual matches against the Universities of Michigan and Toledo. Against Toledo the Bowling Green team won the Rocket-Falcon Rifle Team Trophy in two straight matches.

Second high scorer on the team was John Cunningham, a senior, who had 1,689 points. Gary Johnson, freshman, Willis Woodruff, a senior, and Clark Hill, a sophomore, followed in that order.

Ralph Wells, another senior was in sixth place followed by James Holter, Leroy Cammell, William DeWitt, and Richard Lundgren.

Seventy-Five Students Tour Cleveland Firm

Approximately 75 business students and faculty members are touring the Republican Steel Corporation in Cleveland today.

The group will be taken through an open hearth "melt" shop and then will be driven around the coke ovens area to see coke ovens "pushed" and will be given a good view of the blast furnaces.

After this, the tour will proceed to a strip mill where the students will be taken through both the hot and cold mills. A film, "Men Who Make Steel," which tells the story of the process of making steel from iron ore will follow the lunch period.

Fifty-six graduates and four seniors were recently nominated by the alumni and senior class of the University for election to the Board of Directors of the newly-formed Bowling Green State University Alumni Association, Pres. Ralph W. McDonald announced in a recent press conference. At the same time the proposed constitution of the association was approved by 98 percent of those voting. The four seniors nominated for positions of the Board were Fred Ashley, Nancy Looman, Shirley Merritt, and Lanny Miles. Two of these persons will be elected by the senior class for three-year terms.

Members nominated from the class of 1956 were Brad Greenberg, Fred Hansen, Frances Isch, and Dan Wawrzyniak. Lois Radomsky, Barbara Jisa, Don Packard, and Patricia Vietmeier were the four persons who received the most nominations for the Board from the class of 1955.

Ballots for election of these persons and other members on the Board will be sent out sometime this week, the President stated. The group will hold their first meeting on the campus on Saturday morning, June 8.

This will be the largest election in the Alumni Association since the entire Board of Directors will have to be elected. The other graduating classes, from 1955 down to the first class to receive degrees from the University, have been divided into four groups to facilitate the elections. In these four groups the 12 persons receiving the highest number of nominating votes have been put on the ballot.

Six of the 12 will be elected to the Board. The two receiving the largest number of votes shall be declared elected for three-year terms. The two obtaining the second highest number of votes will hold office for two-year terms and the two receiving the third largest number of election votes will be on the Board for one-year terms.

The ballot to be valid must be mailed in the official return envelope and received by the Alumni Tellers Committee on or before May 24, 1957.

Women's Groups Hold May Sing

Four women's dormitories and 11 sororities will compete in the annual May Sing, sponsored by the Association of Women Students, 7 p.m. Thursday, May 16, in the main auditorium.

Intermission entertainment will feature the Blue Boys quartet with Tom Alverson, Jon Rockhold, John Buhler, and James Steidtmann; a dance routine by Jeanne Baker; and a comedy routine with Lewis Bove and Carol Saylor. June Fritsch will be mistress of ceremonies.

A first place trophy contributed by Gamma Phi Beta will be presented to the winner of May Sing along with song contest awards for the best original composition, said Linda Gee, Chairman of May Sing.

According to Miss Gee, May Sing judges will be high school music teachers from Fostoria, Van Wert, and Defiance. Groups will be judged on tone quality, phrasing, accurate pitch, diction, suitable tempo, and posture, said Miss Gee.

Committees for the Sing are Ann James and Frances Piasecki, programs, Pat Reichart, and Mary Traill, properties; Gretchen Grove, Barbara Sweeney, Pat Shanahan, and Maureen Minahan, seating; June Fritsch and Janet Dick, hospitality; and Phyllis Brabst and Christine Skodlar, invitations.

Last year's winners were Alpha Xi Delta, first; Alpha Phi, second; and Delta Zeta, third.

'Emma' Production Has Realistic Air

By JEFF OSOFF

Excellent lighting, beautiful costuming of 1814 vintage, and two Georgian settings which more than ably captured the free abandon of the Napoleonic Era, all combined to create an extremely realistic air as the University players turned in a worthwhile performance of John Hauler's "Emma," the last major production of the season.

A comedy of manners adopted from a novel by Jane Austen, the play, in several scenes, although well performed and more than ably staged, had a tendency to bore and cause the audience to become quite restless. It is interesting to note that the play, which took 3 hours to enact, was only fifteen minutes longer than the memorable "Mr. Roberts" which was presented by the Players last season.

Nancy Looman, portraying Emma, the charming, vivacious young girl, whose attempts to run the lives and loves of those around her causes havoc, turned in a very skillful performance as she once again showed the qualities which have enabled her to take her place of prominence on the University stage.

Mr. Woodhouse, Emma's father, who views her manipulative attempts with horror, was played by Robert Smith, who turned in his usual performance of excellent acting and characterization. Fred Thayer, portraying

Knightly, an old friend of the family who continually upbraids Emma for her activities and finally ends up marrying her, added mature acting, and proved to be a stabilizing influence during the performance.

Phyllis O'Reilly, who plays Hetty Bates, an eccentric spinster with a continually moving tongue, provided the necessary comic relief during the several slow moving scenes which tended to cause audience unrest. As she has so ably done in the past, Miss O'Reilly ably brought the audience back to attention, and once again displayed her excellent acting abilities.

Shirley Klotz, playing the role of Harriet, who is very naive and easily led, turned in a good performance although she lacked the complete interpretation of the difficult role.

A difficult play as far as interpretation was concerned, the players did a very creditable job, and in the main left the audience with many favorable impressions as they ended a season which began on the clumsy side but slowly rounded into one of the fast moving, highly enjoyable seasons which we have experienced in the past.

Special note should be given to F. Lee Miesle, director of the play, who is to be congratulated for his efforts and skill.

Independent Study Plans . . .

Several of the larger colleges and universities across the nation are contemplating or putting into action a plan of independent study on the undergraduate level according to recent reports.

Independent study programs are conducted by allowing the student to do research on a subject of interest to him in his major field without formal classroom exercises. Thus the student's work consists of reading, doing research, and preparing a paper on the subject at the end of the semester. He is not required to attend class, do homework, or to take examinations for credit in the course.

At the present time, these programs of independent study are limited to one or two three-hour credit courses. But some schools are considering the expansion of this program to take up a semester of the senior year and in some cases the entire senior year.

The main cause for the incorporation of such a program into college curriculums is that the crowded conditions of the classrooms can be alleviated. The value of the ability to do independent research, to organize one's thoughts, and to present a paper without being constantly guided by a professor, without being in the formal classroom situation, is also an important part of education and a motivating factor in the establishment of independent study programs.

With the increasing number of students desiring admission to college, it is contemplated that such a system will become more and more popular and students will be spending three years in class and one year in outside research on many campuses, especially those with limited classroom space.

The real value of independent study however seems to lie in the fact that a student with the ability to do such work will not be held to the formal confines of a course and requirements and thus upon picking a subject of true interest to himself will be able to push himself to his own desire and to pursue the topic as he sees fit.

Independent study with its delineation of required courses, lectures, homework, and classes may be the answer to the charges of "spoon-fed education" which are hurled at our educational system with increasing regularity in these days of formalized instruction.

From the Wire

Policeman's Lot Not A Happy One; Don't Crush The Flowers

By JEFF OSOFF

A Santa Monica, Calif. rookie policeman found out the truth of the old cliché "A policeman's lot is not a happy one." On his first solo prowl car duty, answering his first radio call, the rookie:

Was met by an armed burglar and held at gunpoint; had his police car commandeered as a getaway car; was handcuffed with his own bracelets; was shot at twice; and was slugged into unconsciousness for trying to regain control of the situation.

Turning to the old home front we find that one of our campus fraternities had sojourned to sorority row to give a serenade. The scene was set, and as the familiar strains of the sweetheart song echoed across campus, the proud boyfriend slowly stepped forward to present his sweetheart with the bouquet of flowers which had been provided for the occasion. Having presented the flowers, our young lover then proceeded to bind the festivities by bestowing a kiss. Yet, much to his surprise, as he inched closer, all his girl friend could say was: "Don't crush the flowers!"

A teacher at Highland High School in Anderson, Ind. asked her class to write original, short poems. One student produced the following effort. "I think this class is boring and very deep; I'd drop it but—I need the sleep!"

A local massage clinic in Manila which employs female massagers had posted a want ad on its door which reads: "Wanted: Attractive Attendants."

A Dallas hotel manager with a new cure for persons who talk in their sleep found the police not appreciative of his discovery.

A roommate of the sleep-talker complained to the manager who promptly responded by hitting the talker on the head twice with a hammer.

The East German Communists have learned never to underestimate the power of women. After several years of complaints the state-owned baby-buggy factory announced it would make its prams narrower than the doors of the state-owned railroad cars.

A passerby who interrupted a man beating a woman in a car parked on a Dallas street began to wonder about the value of chivalry after the woman fled, dropping her purse.

Police found the purse contained three knives and a blackjack.

When a London judge asked the defendant who was before him on a charge of drunkenness whether or not he had anything to say, the defendant answered immediately:

"I could use a pint."

A Felizstowe, Eng. resident painted his new house green and was immediately warned by the local planning committee that it must be repainted a cream color under the planning regulations.

Of course, the committee added, once he had complied with the regulations by painting the house cream, he could repaint it any color he wished—green, for example.

AWS Breakfast Set For Senior Women

Senior women are reminded that their replies to the invitations to the annual AWS Senior Breakfast must be in to the dean of women's office by Wednesday, May 15, stated Linda Gee, chairman of the breakfast.

The breakfast will be held Saturday, May 18, at 9 a.m. in the Commons dining room. Dr. Martha Gesling Weber will be the featured speaker. Members of Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary, will also participate in the program.

Prof Appointed ONA Clinics Committeeman

Jesse J. Currier, professor of journalism, was appointed by the Ohio Newspaper Association during its meeting in Columbus last week to a committee which will consider arranging a series of clinics for high school teachers, advisers, and counselors in the near future.

The purpose of these clinics will be to eventually fill the need for more qualified personnel in the journalism field through a better counseling service. One clinic for each major geographical section in Ohio was proposed.

Over-Socialization Contemplated By Students At Leadership Confab

The possibility that an over-socialization might exist on the campus with a resulting loss of time that students might spend in intellectual pursuits was brought out at the fourth annual Omicron Delta Kappa Leadership Conference held at Lakeside last Saturday.

Approximately 125 student leaders attended the conference and discussed "The role of leadership in stimulating the intellectual atmosphere at Bowling Green State University."

Types Of Programs

In trying to reach resolutions on this topic, they discussed stimulating the intellectual atmosphere through the types of programs brought to the campus, stimulating more students to intellectual achievement, and ways to increase the intellectual atmosphere through revisions or changes in the present procedures used in the classrooms.

The group was broken down into 9 groups of approximately 15 members each for the buzz sessions in the morning. Then, following lunch, the group met in an assembly hall and presented the resolutions that they had formed in their respective buzz sessions. Each resolution was the consensus of opinions in the various nine units.

Library Discussed

The Library was also discussed in the assembly. Hours, decentralization, open stacks, and browsing rooms were mentioned in connection with this topic.

It was also suggested that preparation through pamphlets, classroom announcements, and discussion groups might improve the value of the Artist Series and lectures. It was also brought out that perhaps convocations might be re-instituted on the campus.

The group was stalemated on the question of whether it was best to have more programs of a lower calibre or fewer Artist Series presentations of a very high calibre. Mention was made that all other campus events should be cancelled on the night of the presentation.

Faculty and student relationships were another major topic on which the buzz groups seem to have dwelled. Dean's list, independent study programs, and emphasis on the gifted student plan were brought up in connection with stimulating students to higher intellectual achievement.

Recorders Employed

The buzz sessions were led by members of ODK. Recorders were employed to write down the resolutions as they came out in the meetings.

The purpose of the conference as stated by ODK was "to bring together student, faculty, and administrative leaders to discuss a problem of mutual interest, with the hope of providing a common ground for studying the problem, and of promoting a better understanding among the parties concerned."

The procedure of buzz sessions and a general assembly was proposed by Dr. Donald C. Kleckner, chairman of the speech department and member of ODK. Members of the conference committee for the leadership honorary were Lanny Miles, chairman; Ed Ward, Doug Eggleston, and Henry Jacques.

Theme Set For Spring Events

"Fantasyland" has been chosen as the theme of the presentation of the May Queen during Spring Week-end, May 24, 25, and 26, according to George Howick, publicity chairman of the Spirit and Traditions Board, planners of the event.

Presentation of the May Queen will take place on Friday, May 24. Floats will gather in the new parking lot east of the football field at 6:30 p.m. They will then parade through the campus and the town returning to the stadium at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Here, all candidates for May Queen will be presented and the Queen and her court will be announced. Entertainment will be interspersed appropriately throughout the ceremony, Howick stated. The winning float will also be awarded a prize at this time.

Each sorority and women's residence hall has nominated a candidate for the May Queen. The group must ask a fraternity or men's dormitory to assist them in constructing a float for the presentation of their candidate.

A list of the candidates and their class rank, the theme of the float, and the name of the men's group assisting in the float building must be submitted to Dorothy Tucker, 307 Prout Hall, before May 17, Howick said.

Helms Named ODK Deputy Of Province

Dr. Lloyd A. Helms, dean of the Graduate School of the University, was elected Deputy of Province IV at the recent Omicron Delta Kappa convention in St. Louis. This entitles Dr. Helms to a seat on the Executive Council of the organization. Dr. Helms is also a member of the National Scholarship Committee of the organization and this year served as chairman for the Convention Committee on Objectives and Standards. He is secretary of the local Circle.

Relations To Be Topic

"The Wood County Interfraternity Club and its Relation to the Community and the University," is the topic of the Wood County Interfraternity Club meeting at 8:00 p.m., tonight, May 14, at the Phi Delta Theta House on Fraternity Row. Dr. Elden Smith will be the principal speaker.

Official Announcements

The Summer Sessions at the University will be held from June 7 to July 19 and from July 22 to August 23. Courses will be offered in most of the University departments, plus workshops. Catalogues for the Summer Sessions are now available in Dean Gee's and the Registrar's Office.

THE THUNDERING MARCH OF PROGRESS

Today, as everyone knows, is the forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Gransmire College for Women which, as everyone knows, was the first Progressive Education college in the United States.

Well do I recollect the tizzy in the academic world when Gransmire first opened its portals! What a buzz there was, what a brouhaha in faculty common rooms, what a rattling of teacups, when Dr. Agnes Thudd Sigafos, first president of Gransmire, lifted her shaggy head and announced defiantly, "This here is no stuffy, old-fashioned college. This here, by gum, is Progressive Education. We will teach the student, not the course. There will be no marks, no exams, no requirements. We will break the iron mold of orthodoxy, hey."

Well sir, forward-looking maidens all over the country cast off their fetters and came rushing to New Hampshire to enroll at Gransmire. Here they found freedom. They broadened their vistas. They lengthened their horizons. They unstopped their bottled personalities. They roamed the campus in togas, leading ocelots on leashes.

And, of course, they smoked Philip Morris. (I say "of course." Why do I say "of course"? I say "of course" because it is a matter of course that anyone in search of freedom should naturally turn to Philip Morris, for Philip Morris is a natural smoke, with no filter to get in the way of its true tobacco taste.)

But all was not Philip Morris and ocelots. There was work and study too—not in the ordinary sense, for there were no formal classes. Instead there was a broad approach to enlarging each girl's potentials.

Take the course called Basic Motor Skills

Take, for example, the course called B.M.S. (Basic Motor Skills). B.M.S. was divided into L.D. (Lying Down), S.U. (Standing Up) and W. (Walking). Once the student had mastered L.D. and S.U., she was taught to W.—but not just to W. any old way! No, sir! She was taught to W. with poise, dignity, bearing! To inculcate a sense of balance in the girl, she began her exercises by walking with a suitcase in each hand. (One girl, Mary Ellen Dorgenicht, got so good at it that today she is bell captain at the Dinkler-Plaza Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia.)

When the girls had walking under their belts, they were allowed to dance. Again no formality was imposed. They were simply told to fling themselves about in any way their impulses dictated, and believe you me, it was quite an impressive sight to see them go bounding into the woods with their togas flying. (Several later joined the U. S. Forestry Service.)

There was also a lot of finger painting and gourd rattling and sculpture with coat hangers and all like that, and soon the fresh wind of Progressivism came whistling out of Gransmire to blow the ancient dust of pedantry off curricula everywhere, and today, thanks to the pioneers at Gransmire, we are all free, every man-jack of us.

If you are ever in New Hampshire, be sure to visit the Gransmire campus. It is now a tannery.

©Max Shulman, 1967

And be sure to light a Philip Morris when you visit Gransmire, or anywhere else for that matter, because Philip Morris is always a naturally perfect companion and brings you this column each week and is ignitable at either end.

Perry Pleased As Browns Beat Whites 33-14 In Annual Intra-Squad Contest

By PAUL LEVY

Last Friday night Doyt Perry put his charges through their final paces of the spring in the annual Brown-White intra-squad game. There were no flags flying and hardly a cheerleader in sight but it made little difference as the Browns thrashed their opposition by a resounding 33-14 score.

The Brown attack featured the same rugged style of play as last year's conference champions. Hard running halfbacks and tough line play were the watchword as the Browns put together sustained scoring drives of 95, 73, 72, 47, and 26 yards.

The first counter came in the second quarter after the Brown's had taken possession of the ball on their own five. Bob Young, Don Evans, Fred Schmidt, and Norm Salminen took turns chewing off hunks of White territory until Jerry Dianiska crashed over for the score from the three. Young's attempt for the point was good.

Schmidt Goes 58 Yards

The Browns added two more scoring tallies in the second period; the first when Fred Schmidt scampered 58 yards off tackle. Tom Colaner missed the conversion.

The third marker came when Dianiska covered Harold Furcron's bobble. From this point the Brown's, staying earthbound, moved to the one from where Young slipped through guard for the TD. Young booted the point.

Salminen Connects

The White's lone first half tally came late in the second stanza on what was the game's most spectacular play. Quarterback Salminen took the pass from center on his own 23, faded back, and connected with Floyd Lennox on the Brown 45. Lennox gathered in the aerial and rocketed down the sideline for the score; the play covering 77 yards.

Lennox Adds Another

The third quarter was scoreless but on the first play in the final period Lennox punched over from the six for the second and final White marker.

After Lennox's effort the Browns came storming back with Brian Lewis at the reins. Starting on their own 23 the Browns tore away at the White forward wall until they reached the White 10, from where Lewis rang up the fourth Brown six pointer. Derr split the crossbar for the point.

The final Brown score came when Bob Colburn maneuvered his team from the White 47 to the six. Colburn then slithered across the last chalk mark into paydirt. Jim Derr's try for the point was blocked.

In all Coach Perry was happy with the contest. Particularly interesting to him were the facts that there were no interceptions nor fumbles; two gridiron points which he considers highly important.

Schmidt Tops Runners

Fred Schmidt, a teammate of Vic DeOrio's at Canton Lincoln, was the ground gaining leader of the evening with 104 yards in 12 carries for an 8.7 average.

The statistics bear out the Brown's superiority. They gained 423 yards to the Whites 212 and led in first downs 19 to 12.

Generally the Whites were made up of first and fourth stringers, while the Browns consisted of second and third line men.

Delts, KSigs Remain Unbeaten-Softball

In fraternity softball, League I, Delta Tau Delta and Kappa Sigma are tied for first place with 2-0 records. Sigma Nu and Delta Upsilon are tied for third with a record of 1-1. Following are Phi Kappa Psi and Pi Kappa Alpha, 0-1, and Alpha Kappa Omega, 0-2.

In League II, Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, and Phi Delta Theta, are tied for first place with records of 2-1. Sigma Phi Epsilon, 1-1, is in fourth place followed by Delta Epsilon, Sigma Chi, and Phi Kappa Tau, 1-2, and Zeta Beta Tau, 0-2.

BG Dropped By 'Cats 2-1, 13-6; Face Hurons

By ROG DAVIS

When, and if, the local baseball nine can combine good hitting and tight pitching in one game, they might achieve a second victory in the conference this season.

Over the past weekend the Falcons dropped a two game series at Ohio U. which made four straight conference losses and seven defeats in eight league games to date.

Next Friday and Saturday Bowling Green will play host to Marshall in a two game series that will mark the end of the conference season.

At Athens, Friday, Wade Dieffenhaller of Bowling Green threw a three-hitter at the Bobcats, but his mates were unable to score more than one run and consequently were defeated, 2-1. According to Coach Stellar, Dieffenhaller's effort was his best of the year.

Geisler Adds A RBI

The lone BG run was produced in the fifth by Larry Geisler's single. Twice in the late innings Bowling Green runners were thrown out at the plate as they attempted to score the tying run.

On Saturday the Falcons' bats banged out a dozen hits, but a trio of Bowling Green hurlers, including starter Joe Podijil, Joe Spano, and Don Hornish, allowed thirteen runs and fourteen hits. Again, Bowling Green lost, 13-6.

Podijil Hit Hard

Bowling Green got a run in the first, but Podijil was clipped for two in each of the first two innings. In the fifth Spano, who had possessed the lowest ERA on the pitching staff, was bombarded for five runs.

The Falcons tallied the rest of their runs in the sixth. The big blow was a bases loaded, pinch-

Broncos Clip Falcons; Yearlings Nipped, 75-74

By HERB MOOREHEAD

Last Friday the Bowling Green cindermen encountered a strong Western Michigan squad on the Michigan turf, and sampled the versatility that has been picked to win the Mid-American Conference this year.

The Falcon thinclads could net only three firsts and two ties for first, as they bowed to the Broncos 104-43. The Western Michigan team, paced by Olympic star Ira Murchison, gave a good over-all performance as they moved to their convincing victory over the Falcons. They showed weaknesses in only the weight events.

In the discus Bowling Green shut the door on the Broncos as Irv Bacon, Carl Schorr, and Al Ojanpa placed first, second and third, in that order. Dick Luehrs won the shotput with his 46'3" effort. The other BG first was captured by Jack Mortland as he outsprinted the field of quartermilers; his teammate, Ted Thomas, was close on his heels. Bob Ramlow tied for first place honors in the pole vault, and Lynn Koester figured in a three-way tie in the high jump, to round out the story on the varsity's success.

The Falcon yearlings turned in their usual good performance, but still lost to a fine Western Michigan contingent 75-74. Not until the last event was over was the meet decided.

In posting seven firsts, the frosh were paced by Bernard Casey, as he broke the tape three times. Casey's first winning stint came as he anchored the 880-yard relay team of Malzahn, Buckholz, and Killian; he then went on to run his unbeaten streak to four meets for both hurdle events. Larry Dove tasted defeat for the second time this season as the Broncos' Eversole outkicked him in the final 220-yards.

Other good performances were turned by Walt Killian, who won the 220-yard dash; Jerry Kuehl in the 440-yard dash; Ronald De-wulf in the broad jump, Bob Seebach in the pole vault, and Kurt Zimmerman in the discus.

Four Squads Enter Softball Tournament

Round robin softball tournaments were slated to begin this week, announced Dr. Agnes Hooley, tournament adviser. Four teams are entered in the tournament but more are welcome to join at any time, Dr. Hooley said. The games begin at 4:25 each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and are officiated by junior health and physical education majors who have had special training.

From this group of teams will be chosen the team for the Ohio State University Sports Day to be held Saturday, May 18.

Teams include: Treadhards, Jane Brice, captain; Red Wings, Dottie Tucker, captain; Make-ups, Carol Rasmus, captain; and Naughty Nines, Gladys Griesmer, captain.

BG Slips Britons, Dales 1st Losses

Friday coach Forrest Creason's golfers inflicted the first defeats of the season on Albion and Hillsdale Colleges. Then the following day the Falcons traveled to Kalamazoo, Mich. and lost 21-6 to Western Michigan.

Jack Leudemann paced the Falcons with a 73 as BG whipped Albion 11-4 and Hillsdale 9 1/2-5 1/2. The Falcons had previously dropped an encounter to Albion earlier in the year.

Gary Hallett posted a 74 and Jim Bernicke had a 75 on the Falcons home course.

Bernicke and Ed Brideau shot identical scores of 77 against Western Michigan.

Talented Toledo Netters Set Sights On Loop Title

The Bowling Green tennis contingent will travel to Toledo tomorrow in an attempt to upend a high-flying Rocket squad that is entertaining thoughts of a Mid-American Conference championship. Toledo has captured 14 of its 15 matches.

In MAC competition the Falcons have offered TU their most stubborn opposition. The Rockets subdued BG 6-3 on the Falcons courts. Kent State, Ohio University, and Marshall all succumbed 9-0 to the rampaging Rockets. BG also dumped these league opponents but by closer margins.

Western Michigan and Miami will be the schools that will battle the Rockets down to the wire in the title matches at Kent State, May 24 and 25. Western and Miami were co-champs in 1956.

Coach Bob Wear's 1956 charges lost every one of 13 matches. This year's team contains four sophomores, one junior and only one senior. In order of position the team is Klaus Raueiser, Dan Braden, Joe Makowski, Larry Resnick, Don Knuth, and Joe Damrauer.

With Tom Crow still on the sidelines with a pulled thigh muscle, Falcon coach Bob Keefe will start John Meloy in his place. Dick Abele was the sole Falcon to gain a singles win in the first TU-BG match.

In action over the weekend the Falcons posted two MAC victories over Marshall, 7-2, and Ohio U., 4-2. The OU match was curtailed by rain with Falcons leading two of three doubles matches. Oberlin then snapped a three game BG won skein with a 5-4 win.

ACCEPTING A CHECK for $3,000 from Allstate Foundation is Dr. Ralph G. Harshman, vice-president of the University. The grant is for use in the University driver training program. Others present at the luncheon where the check was presented were, left to right, Jack E. Hecker, sectional representative of Allstate; Harshman; R. H. Rusch, district representative of Allstate; and Bruce Ballard, driver training instructor here at the University.

University Receives Allstate Grant

A gift of $3,000 was presented to the Bowling Green State University Foundation, Inc., May 7 by the Allstate Foundation of Chicago for use in the University's driver training program.

This is the fourth year that the Allstate Foundation has given the University a grant for this purpose.

The check for the amount was presented at a luncheon to Dr. Ralph G. Harshman, vice-president of the University, by R. H. Rusch, district representative for the Allstate Foundation and resident manager in Cleveland for the Allstate Insurance Company in Ohio.

Since the first grant was made in 1954, a total of 537 students have taken the course and have been certified to teach driver training in the schools of Ohio. Bruce Ballard, drive training instructor at the University, said at the luncheon. The course is offered in both semesters and in a concentrated two-week workshop in the summer, he said. At present 30 students are enrolled.

Four years ago, the University was one of four colleges and universities selected by the Allstate Foundation for grants given on an experimental basis for driver education. Mr. Rusch said. The program has proven so successful that similar grants are being made this year to 41 other colleges and universities across the country.

Psych Group Elects Lawrence President

Lorraine Lawrence was elected president of Phi Chi, national recognition society in psychology, during its meeting Thursday, May 9.

Also elected were Philip Schneider, vice-president, and Anna Mitchell, secretary-treasurer. Other business during the meeting included making preliminary plans for a picnic for the group on Memorial Day.

Entertainment for the evening was furnished by psychology department faculty members, who performed comedy skits about student-faculty relationships in retaliation for student skits at an earlier meeting which satirized faculty members.
